It is the impression on the street that the Canadian Pacific Kaliway has secured control of the Pacific Mail, and its interests are represented in the board named. Undoubtedly the object of the Canadian Pacific was to prevent a consummation of the trade between the Northern Pacific and George Gould providing for running steamers to Tacoma. This may result in the establishment of another steamship line, but this is deprecated by E. Oakes, who believes a proper solution of the question lies in the consolidation of the Pacific Mail, Oriental and Occidental and Canadian Pacific lines and the recognition of Tacoma by a monthly or semi-monthly steamer to and from that port. An arrangement of this kind would give San Francisco, Tacoma and Vancouver all the China and Japan service they need.

What People Think of His Chances

OF AGAIN GOING TO CONGRESS

He Has Outlived His Usefulness No Chance of Nomination-And Couldn't Be Elected Anyhow.

To arrive at the opinions of mem bers of this community on the sug-gested candidacy of Congressman Vandever for a third term, reporters of THE TIMES were detailed yesterday on question-propounding expeditions about town, with the following result: about town, with the following result:
James R. Finlayson, ex-secretary of the Republican State central committee: I think the representative to Congress from the Sixth Congregational District should be a younger man than Gen. Vandever, with more speed and influence in Congress than he has exhibited. He is too old, and should not be thought of for reëlection.
Thomas A. Lewis: I think Vandewere has made a failure as a Congressman, and a worse failure in represent-ver has made a failure as a Congressman, and a worse failure in representing the sentiments of this community in regard to some of his appointments. The influence that Senator Stanford seems to have over him does not appear to be profitable either to the party in Southern California or to advance the general prosperity. It is a sad commentary that the man who went in by the wonderful majority of 7000, will go out almost unanimously; but such is politics in the far West.

Gen. E. P. Johnson: I think that when Gen. Vandever has served this term out he will be nearly 75 years of age. We should have a younger man. We want a young man of nerve and energy, who can make our fights and win. Personally, I think a great deal of Gen. Vandever. He made a good soldier, and, 30 years ago, he was a trong man but his age is against.

of Gen. Vandever. He made a good soldier, and, 30 years ago, he was a strong man, but his age is against him, and he should not be thought of.

C. M. Wells: I want to see the best man in the Sixth Congressional District in Washington, and—well—.

Charles Parsons: I am against him for many reasons. He is too old to make a winning fight against some of the brightest statesmen in the United States, and Southern California has nothing to show for his presence in Washington, and nothing but childishness or unlimited assurance would was crowded with visitors all day, and they seemed to admire the various dis-nothing to show for his presence in Washington, and nothing but childishness or unlimited assurance would cause him to ask for a third term.

Maj. W. H. Bonsall: Shortly after our State convention, a couple of years ago, I was approached by several parties who tried to induce me to enter a movement against Vandever's reacomination, on the alleged grounds of "youngar blood" being wanted. Although not acquanted with the General, I felt that he was fairly entitled to a second term, believing that he would serve us with ability and distinction. To say that I have been disappointed inhim is drawing it mildly, to say the least. He is a "back number" of ancient lore. He does not catch the inspiration and spirit of progress that is manifestly needed in a Congressman from this bailiwick. We need a man in Washington who is an aggressive fighter, a man enveloped in war-paint and feathers, with bowler with the province of a growing county like this are great, and we are entitled to them. I will wantere the assertion that Tom Clunie of Notewer Ediffernia. Beautrant.

Another Democrat, who is well known in political circles, said: I do not blame Mr. Vandever for wanting a third term. He and his family are drawing about one thousand dollars a month, in the following order: Gen. Vandever, $500 n month; his two daughters, $128; his son, who is in Washington, $240 a month; and another son, who is in the employ of the railroad company, $170. This is a pretty good thing, and will give Mr. Vandever's family about fifty thousand dollars when his four years are up, and it is not at all surprising that he wants to stay there.

LETTER FROM VANDEVER.

What He Has to Say About That Appropriation. Walter S. Moore has just received the following letter from Congressman Vandever:

Vandever:

Yours of the 11th inst is received. No doubt it seems strange to the good people of Los Angeles that Mr. Clunie should have succeeded in getting an appropriation of $200,000 at San José, while action is post-poned in the House upon the Los Angeles bill, which has already passed the Senate, You must take into account that Mr. Clunie is a member of the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds of the House. The custom of that committee has uniformly been to first take care of the projects of its own members, irrespective of their politics. There is no committee of the House which is less partisan in its character than the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds. As a general thing that committee aims to accommodate its members. The appropriation for Mr. Clunie's building at San José seemed to a great many to be in excess of the requirements of the public service at that point, and the President was inclined to yeth the bill; but Strong appeals were made to him by San Francisco

Only six jurors were obtained yesterday, the greatest care being exercised by the defense in their examination of the talesmen. When court adjourned at 4:30 o'clock the jurors selected were J. W. It will probably take the better part of today to secure a jury if the defense is as liberal with its peremptory challenges as it was yesterday.

Judge Cheney intimated before adjournment that the jurors should come prepared to be kept together. He did not know that he would make such an order, but if it should become necessary not to allow them to separate they ought to be prepared for it. A SFNSATIONAL DEVELOPMENT. There promises to be the liveliest sort of developments in the troubles of the Weyse family, from an arrest of the Weyse family, from an arrest which was made yesterday afternoon. At 3 o'clock a rough-looking man named John Jones, in company with H. G. Weyse, appeared in Justice Savage's courtroom. Jones surrendered himself upon a complaint filed against him two days ago by Thomas Key, in which he is charged with bribery. The complaint sets forth that Jones offered to give Key $500 May 12th if he would not appear as a witness in the divorce to give key $500 May 12th if he would not appear as a witness in the divorce case brought by Mrs. Louise Weyse against her husband, O. THE House has passed the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill. This gives us the princely sum of $35,000 for San Pedro Harbor. That ought to be sufat work during the year.

LORD KNUTSFORD, the British Colonial Secretary, has received a note of address to the Queen voted by the Newfoundland Legislative Council and House of Assembly. It is said that the document has no parallel in the history of Great Britain's colonial empire for the angry and threatening ne which it assumes toward the se government, except, perhaps the dispatch in which the North Amer onists, in '73, announced that they would no longer pay taxes to Great Britain, and so prepared the way for the war of independence.

THE intermarriage of Europea titles with American money-bags becomes almost a daily occurrence. Nothing less than a prince will now Polish prince for the hand-and bank ount-of Mrs. James C. Ayer of New York. So exciting and so noto rious has the 'rivalry between these two fortune-hunters become that heavy ts have been staked on the issue in Paris. This growing tendency on the part of American girls-and American fathers—to prefer the generally disso-lute and worthless scions of European nobility to plain Americans is a very discouraging sign of the times. These men, as a rule, make little or no con cealment of their object, which is to exchange their titles for money. They consider that they are demeaning themselves in marrying a pure and honest—"though rich"—American girl, and the American girl believes that she is bettering her social condi-tion by such marriage. CONGRESSMAN VANDEVER has written a letter to Walter S. Moore, which endeavors to explain why Mr. Clunie got through a $200,000 appropriation for San José, while the Los Angeles peropriation still slumbers at the botom of the calendar. Gen. Vandever's nation is very weak. He says hat a halt has been called on public building appropriations. If, however, our Congressman had used due dili-gence, and exercised the influence which should belong to a Congressman. hould belong to a Congressma e should certainly have succeeded in having an appropriation for the com-pletion of a half-finished building con-sidered before others for new buildings, especially when an appropriation has been approved by the Supervising Architect and the Public Buildings Committee. Gen. Vandever says that Mr. Clunie "procured his own and several other bills to be entered upon the calendar ahead of the Los Angeles ill." Why did Congressman Van-lever allow him to do so? It is asserted at Vandever absented himself from Washington and left our bill in charge of Mr. Clunie—the milk in charge of with the works-and with Con-nan Vandever.

The Mexican Col. Following is the pronun-ciador's sarcastic and somewhat flamboyant epistle:

To His High Mightiness, Governor-General of the projected peninsula republic:

by the above-mentioned Governor-General it will be necessary for him to make an assault upon said high functionary in his office.

Col. Ferrar is not a house-breaker, nor yet a sneaking fillbuster. He does not care to ransack the Sun building, to look under beds and to peer into coal holes in search of the brave animal that has ranted upon the Mexican people the mephitic epithets, "Coward" and "Greaser." He does not incline to go so far out of his way to officiate as skunk-nunter, but the Colonel thinks that it is not impossible that Mexicans should be "invisible in war" to the gallant Governor-General whom the mention of a fight sends with a rush to the refuge of a coal vault or a water-closet. In refuge of a coal vault or a water-closet. In conclusion, the Colonei opines that the prospect of Lower California being smeared with blood and ashes is not quite so gloomy just now as it has been in the awful and dismal past.

One paper has committed the absurdity of declaring that any one who has expressed himself in favor of State division should be boycotted politically and not receive the support of northern delegates in the State conventions. This is worse than monsense, for it is apt to create bitter feeings and bad blood. The people of Southern California, being freemen, have a constitutional right to express themselves as they please, and take any legitimate steps to carry out any project which they may conceive. To oppose a man for having expressed himself in favor of State divisions would be about as senseless a proceeding as it would for the Southern California deleexpressed himself in favor of State division would be about as senseless a proceeding as it would for the Southern California delegates to array themselves against a man because he was opposed to cutting the State in two. The whole subject should be dropped until such a time as the population of the southers section of the State is large enough to make it a reasonable one. When that time arrives, we venture to say, the little animosities that now exist will have disappeared.

The question could not have been more fairly stated in a Southern California paper. The Chronicle will make many friends down here by its stand The latest episode of this description feeted some of its contemporaries as a is a rivalry between a Russian and a red rag does an enraged bull. There is at present no large or active State division sentiment in the south, but should the policy outlined by some of the northern papers be carried out, it would not take very long to create one.

Why, it is a common thing for people to offer property, near the business center, with valuable im-provements on it, to any one who will agree to pay the taxes, and the City Council had to pass an ordinance making it a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment, for a perso to go away and leave his property withont an owner, with intent to avoid payment of taxes. By Telegraph to The Times PORTLAND (Or.,) May 23.-|By the Associated Press. | The authorities last night made a seizure of 310 five-tae cans of opium, valued at about two thousand dollars, at a Chinese wash-house on Second street. The authorities have suspected for some time that an organized band of smug-glers existed. They arrested John Mays, a brakeman on the Northern Pacific, as one of the principals.

It seems that opium had been consigned to Lee Hing a Chinese merchant. Upon its arrival Hing, in company with Mays and a conductor, went down to receive it. When they arrived down to receive it. When they arrived at the wash-house they found the opium had been located by customs officers and refused to pay for it. The brakeman and conductor, at the point of a pistol, forced Hing to write a note to his partners telling them to send the money or they would kill him. The note was given to Mays to deliver, but fell into the hands of officers, who caused his arrest. Before the other principals could be secured they forced Lee Hing into a hack and escaped, taking the Chinaman with them.

PARIS, May 28.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The Budget Committee today discussed the report on the condition of the French navy. The River and Harbor Appropriation Bill Passes the House.

An Appropriation for a National Park on the Battlefield of Chickamauga – Randall's Successor Seated, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times. WASHINGTON (D. C.,) May 28.-[By the Associated Press.] Senate.-Mr. Sherman, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported an amendment to the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation Bill, authorizing the President to earry into effect the recommendations of the International Conference by the appointment of three sioners to represent the United States in the inter-colonial railway sion; also to detail from the army and navy officers to serve as en-gineers under such commission, making surveys; and appropriating $65,000 as the share of the United States of the expenses of such commission and surveys.

Mr. Stewart offered a resolution which was agreed to, calling on the Secretary of Agriculture for information as to the use of artesian wells and other water supplies from subtercanean sources for irrigation.

The Senate bill subjecting imported liquors to the laws of the several States was again taken up. Mr. Morgan made an argument against its nstitutionality.

Mr. Faulkner expressed himself in fevor of doing something, of passing some bill that would relieve the situation which now confronted Congress. Speaking of the regulation of the liquor traffic, he said he believed, as did the people of his State, that the high license system was the true method of dealing with the question. He had given notice of an amendment somewhat similar to the substitute reported by the Judiciary Committee. He criticised the substitute, objecting, for instance, to the use of the word "prohibition," and suggested that the objection could be obviated by the use of the word "regulation."

Mr. Wilson of lowa did not agree with Mr. Faulkner, and argued in favor of the substitute.

Mr. Pugh argued in favor of the bill, Mr. Faulkner expressed himself in favor of the substitute.

Mr. Pugh argued in favor of the bill, and said its defeat would leave the State in a most serious predicament.

Mr. Call expressed sympathy with the idea that States had absolute control of the traffic in intoxicating liquor, and was willing to vote for almost any bill which would attain that and.

Mr. Call yielded the floor to Mr. Alon, who presented the conference re-ret on the Army Appropriation Bill.
Mr. Ingalls inquired what had been ne in regard to the Senate amend-ment prohibiting the sale of liquor at conferees in the matter.

There was quite a spirited debate on this point. Mr. Blair held that it is an entire surrender of the provision. Mr. Allison said of course the provision applies only to States and Territories where a prohibitory law prevails. The House conferees were unanimous in insisting that the Senate provise should not remain in the bill.

Mr. Paddock said it is within bounds the Senate proviso, and that army tanteens will remain substantially in canteens will remain substantially in full force.

Mr. Ingalls said either control of the army, so far as the sale of intoxicating liquor was concerned, ought to be in the United States or it ought not. Congress ought either to say that all soldiers shall have an opportunity of getting drunk or not. The proposition to leave control of the question to local legislation seemed indefensible, and so far as the Senate was concerned, it would be more manly to relinquish the whole thing absolutely rather than have it so mutilated.

Mr. Allison withdrew the report and said he would call it up tomorrow.

The House Fortifications Bill was reported, with amendments, and laid on the table.

The conference report on the bill for a public building at Cedar Rapids was agreed to. Consideration of the Liquor Bill was Consideration of the Liquor Bill was resumed. Mr. Pierce criticised the arguments of some of the Democratic Senators, and made an argument in support of the bill.

Mr. Turple said the Senate had no duty whatever to perform on this subject. With respect to the shoddy, transparent, gauzy essence or image of an essence that is called "moral sentiment behind prohibitory legislation," he did not believe we had a denomination of coin small enough to measure its value.

After further debate, the Senate adurned. House.—Mr. Vaux qualified as Ran-

House.—Mr. Vaux qualified as Randall's successor.

A bill was passed appropriating $125,000 for the establishment of a national military park at the battle-field of Chickamauga.

The House went into committee of the whole on the River and Harbor Bill.

Bill.

The pending question was on the point of order raised by Mr. McCreary against the clause prescribing penalties upon owners of bridges which obstruct navigation. The Chair overruled the point of order.

On motion of Mr. Dunnell the section declaring that it shall not be lawful to construct a bridge over any navigable waterway of the United States within the limits of a State, without obtaining the approval of the Secretary of War, was stricken out. The committee then rose and reported the bill to the House.

Mr. Dockery moved to recommit the bill with instructions to the Committee of 88 per month, is both humane and just, and will give relief to thousands of disabled soldiers who are not shie to secure a pension under existing laws, because of their inability to establish, by proof, the fact that their present disabilities were incurred in the service.

Your bill also makes a just provision of 88 per month for the widows and minor children of honorably discharged soldiers, where such widow is without other means of support than her daily I bor.

The first section of your bill grants a service peasion of 38 per month to the officers and enlisted men of the army and navy, or marine corps, who served ninety days or more and were honorably discharged, who shall hereafter reach that age. To determine the cost of this provision of your bill has required a careful inquiry into the question of the ages of the army at enlistment, and the probable number of the various ages now surviving. The records of the War Department which contain this information have never been carefully collated so as to show definitely the facts required, but the subject has recently been given a very searching and intelligent examination by Capt. F. C. Alnsworth of the War Department. I have had access to these figures in the course of my examination of the subject, and they have been of great value to me.

You will soberve that I estimate the present number of survivors 62 years of age and upward at 143,920. These persons would, of course, be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls at once at 88 per month.

You will see from my estimate that after granting pensions to all those who would probably be entitled under your bill during the facts years of age.

I invite your attention to an accompanying table, which shows year 19 year when in full of my first endow the pension rolls under section 1 of your bill.

In 1892 14,819 will reach the age of 62, and this number will gradually increase for thirteen years, when the maximum number of 69,232 will go upon the rolis during the year of 1900, and the number will then gradually diminish from year to year, until is 1909 the residue of 535 will be entitled to be placed upon the rolis.

A very important question to consider in connection with the cost of your bill is the fact of the greatly increased death rate of or, e-third of the survivors of the army. I estat 200,000 of the survivors of the army. I estat 200,000 of the survivors of the war will die; that during the next swelve years at least 720,000 will have died; and that during the next eighteen years at least 720,000 will have died; and that during the next eighteen years at least 720,000 will have died; and what during the next eighteen years at least 720,000 will have died; and that during the next eighteen years at least 720,000 will have died; and that during the next eighteen years at least 720,000 will have died; and that during the next eights unipone of the pension rolis at $5 per month the $72,987 soldiers who were not on the rolis January 1, 1890, it leaves their rights uninpaired to apply for and to receive a higher rate of pension under existing laws.

It is proper to state that in making the foregoing estimate of the cost of your bill, nothing has been abuted from the estimate now before Congress of the cost for the next fiscal year of the pension service, under existing laws.

It will, of course be understood that the names saided to the rolls under present laws from time to time would be deducted from the number who otherwise would be placed upon the rolls under your bill.

Every provision of your bill commends itself to my judgment as wise and just, and it seems to me that it will not impose a butden upon the country of which the people will complain. Very respectfully, Green B. Raum, Commissioner.

Our streets could be kept cleaner, if housekeepers would burn the daily refuse of the kitchen, instead of attempting to preserve it in boxes for scavengers, or throwing it into the streets and alleys. If each head of a family would see to it that the garbage of each meal is burned before the preparation of the next meal begins, there would be a general backyard cleanliness, that is now wanting in some sections of town. It is the question. They have both indicated their acceptance of the proposition, as is understood, to the Monroe administration. They have both indicated their acceptance of the proposed trust, hence it is not probable that harmony pure singularly regulations. For the Local Foot-ball Eleven. At the recent meeting of the advisory committee of the Intercollegiate Foot-ball Association, held in New York, several changes were made in the rule governing the game, which Pzsadena's eleven should make a note of. One of the rules provides that "if the catcher, after making his mark, be deliberately thrown to the ground by an opponent, he shall be given five yards, unless this carries the ball across the goal line." Another is: "If a player when off side touches this ball inside of the opponent's five-yard line, the ball shall go as a touch-back to the opponents. Still another: "If a fair catch be not made the ball shall go to the opponents at the spot where it first strikes the ground." Lemon Juice on Strawberries.

There has been a good deal of complaint heard in town this spring about the quality of our strawberries. Customers say they can't put enough sugar on them to make them agreeable gar on them to make them agreeable to the taste. A local dealer said yesterday: "In order to make strawberries taste natural there must be a trific of acid to them. The trouble with this year's berries is that they have but little if any such acid, chiefly because they have not had enough sunshine. A man who is un on such matters told me a trick about making these berries come up to the standard. It consists simply in squezing lemon juice—not too much—on the berries. Try it for yourself and you will find the effect delicious." Who wants to try?

FARM TOPICS.

Assessment of Growing Crops. As there has been some controversy in regard to the assessment of growing crops, Hon. Robert Howe of S who is the author of the bill that passed at the last session of the Legislature, writes as follows to the Riverside Press:

The Constitution of California requires all property to be assessed at its full value in cash, providing that growing crops shall be exempt from taxation, and as growing crops were not defined by the Constitution, or by the statutes of the State, the Legislature, at its last session, passed an act defining the same, which reads as follows:

"The term 'growing crops' includes all growing crops—cereals, vines, nut-

Lake Tahoe, where he will remain until the Raymond opens in the fall. He will be accompanied by his wife. In conversation yesterday with the Times reporter Dr. Maynard said:

"I will take the trip for the benefit of my health. My experience has led me to believe that a change of climate is of more importance than the character of the climate for the cure of nearly every variety of chronic disease, granting of course that the patient does not seek a climate that would be altogether prejudicial to his particular allment. "The term 'growing crops' includes all growing crops—cereals, vines, nutbearing, fruit and ornamental trees."
Our State Board of Equalization instructed county assessors to pay no attention to the law, but to assess as heretofore. As to the constitutionality of the act, we have courts to decide the same when necessary, and it is not ity of the act, we have courts to decide the same when necessary, and it is not within the province of the State board to do so. Now, the only reason why it did not take effect this year is because it did not become a law in time for this year's assessment. The law requires all persons to make a statement of all property belonging to, in the possession or under the control of said person at 12 o'clock m. on the first Monday of March.

The assessors had to comply with the day of March.

The assessors had to comply with the law as it existed on the first Monday of March, which was the 4th day of March, and the act defining growing crops did not become a law until the 18th day of March.

It therefore could have no effect on this year's assessment, but it is a good law, and one of the best passed at the last session of the Legislature, and your correspondent at Red Bluff should not be burdened again with double taxation.

The farmers of San Diego county are handicapped to an enormous extent by the fact that every season the greater part of their profits are paid had secured work for several young men, and the membership committee reported 7 applicants for membership, who were elected. The mission at Baldwin's ranch was reported in a prosperous condition.

The committee on entertainment reported the following programme for the entertainment to be given this evening in Strong's Hall:

Song—Miss May Johnson.

Reading—Miss Eliza MacIntosh.
Violin solo—Cari Thomas.
Vocal duet—Misses Folrence Hobrook and Alice Glass.

There will also be some composite recitations and other features of an entertaining character. The entertainment is given for the members and friends of the Y.M.C.A., and all are cordially invited.

We refer to the sack manufacturers who, it has been estimated, will this season take out of this country and this money is gone never to return and a like amount, in fact, more, in all probability, must go next and every succeeding year so long as the present condition of things prevail.

We can do no better than quote the views of H. C. Thompson on this subject. This gentleman is a leading farmer and knows what he is talking about, and our farmers who, like him, have felt the encrmous burden imposed on them every year will indorse his ideas. Mr. Thompson says: "If the money paid out for sacks in this country could be kept in the country about, and our farmers who, like him, have felt the enormous burden imposed on them every year will indorse his ideas. Mr. Thompson says: "If the money paid out for sacks in this country could be kept in the country we could in a few years, from this source alone, afford to subsidize railway people to build railway lines in every valley in Southern California. To illustrate the question, I will say that if the eastern farmer was compelled every year to destroy his granaries, the expense for him will not be greater than our bill for sacks. The only salvation for us and the only feasible plan to give the farmer here an equal chance with the eastern farmer, is to have elevators, and the lumber people can, if they will, come to our rescue. The big lumber firms could easily put up elevators in various parts of the country, and they would pay right from the start and prove of the greatest benefit to this country." Rebecca Cobb and hall.

The ladies of the corps request that all contributions of flowers for Memorial day be sent this morning to the Tabernacle, so that time will be afforded to work them into suitable

New York, May 28.—The stock market today showed a firm front until the announcement that a receiver had been appointed for the Chicago Gas Company.

That stock was immediately attacked, and the price rapidly sentined 7 per cent, with a close sympathy in sugar refineries. The break in trusts disturbed the firm tone for a while, but the recovery was quick, and the highest figures of the day was generally reached toward the delivery hour. Selling then became more pronounced, and the market closed rather heavy at something off from the best figures, and with trusts at their lowest.

In the quotations below, where two sets of figures appear, thus: "Central Pac., 34—34%," the first figures refer to the noon quotations and the last to the closing quotations.

PEOPLE'S STORE,

THURSDAY, May 29, 1890.

The weather was rather gloomy yesterday, and many of our friends were kind of seary about coming around. We heard of several having lists made out, but would not risk the threatening clouds. A good many dared it to get a goodly supply of drugs and medicines, and we were rushed to full "capacity in spite of all. If you didn't get a chance to visit us yesterday today will do as well. The weather might have scared you off then, but if you want cheap drugs, genuine drugs, at half the regular price, fresh drugs at People's Store prices, don't miss it today. True, we have a pretty big stock of all the things on sale, but some of them have felt the continuous strain of calls and are beginning to thin out. Come today by all means, sunny or cloudy. The drugs are still on sale, and tyou can save a good 50 per cent. by pitching right in. We guarantee everything fresh and genuine. We carry no stale or imitation goods.

THE WEEKLY

Price, Including Paper One Year, $2.50.

This beautiful book is the most practical work of the kind that has ever been printed and will be warmly welcomed by our readers. Its author has had a long and extended ex-perience in artistic needlework, and in this volume she has carefully set forth the results of her study and labor in this fascinating department of art.

She has illustrated her work by means of COLORED PLATES, each one of which is made directly from the piece of embroidery which it represents. On one page of the book she shows in outline pattern of the leaves, and on the opposite page is a beautiful COLORED PLATE showing the pattern as it appears after it has been properly worked. This plate shows the exact colors that were used in doing the work, and the outline rat-tern is lettered and numbered, and the author gives full directions for working the colors.
